Editorial

NOT without some misgivings, we have omitted a considerable amount of tabular and statistical material that has been a feature of the IVY for a number of years. Some of this will probably not be regretted, and much of it, as it seems to us, comes more particularly within the province of the official publications of the College than of a student venture, designed, as is the IVY, to reflect the life of the undergraduate. Whatever one's theory on this question, however, the point to be decided is whether we have selected wisely in choosing to fill the space usually given to this dead matter with material of more immediate interest. We cannot hope for unanimity in the decision, but feel confident of a substantial majority.

Our labors have been lightened and their results rendered more satisfactory than they could otherwise have been by the willing assistance of numerous friends among the faculty, alumni, undergraduates, and others. We are especially indebted to Doctor Arthur Adams for his expert assistance in correcting the proof, and to Mr. J. A. Wales, '01, and Miss Inafold Wilson, of Buffalo, for their clever drawings.

Much verbiage in the preface does not help the book; so without more ado we commend to the charity of all to whom Trinity is dear, the 1912 IVY.

George D. Howell; '82.

who, as Student, Alumnus, Trustee, and Benefactor, has so loyally served his

Alma Mater,

and who, as a friend of the undergraduates, has earned their affectionate regard, this number of the

1911 History

WE close the book of the deeds of 1911 with mingled feelings of satisfaction and regret. Regret, because we realize that "we have left undone those things that we ought to have done," and because there is always a certain tragedy in writing "Finis." Satisfaction, because as class records go we cannot but feel that we have reason for pride in our achievements. We have been crowned with many laurels during these four too-brief years, and it is pleasing to think that some of them may not have been wholly undeserved.

And so but a few little hours and we leave the home we have loved, to go down to the sea in ships. Many will watch our going and give us a parting cheer. A few, we know, will greet us on our return, when we shall have weathered storms and bring back new treasures—for the mother's delight is in the glory of her sons. But, in another way, our account is closed, and be it for good or ill the chance to add or subtract is no longer with us. "Nor all your tears wash out one word of it."

To be doleful, however, is idle. It is hard to leave—others in our position have said this before, but it has to be experienced to be realized—and yet we have had our day. The greatest thing of all the great things Trinity has revealed to us is "the institution of the dear love of comrades." Generous counselors in the classes just before us! Appreciative pupils in those we leave to fill our places! Noble friendships formed within our own number! There may be greater things to come, but no one has yet written of them.

Finally, to those whose guidance we have too slowly followed, whom we regarded first with suspicion, then with tolerance, and all too late with the respect and admiration that was their due, who have taught us—and withal many things not found in books—we give the hand in parting. May they some day feel that their toil was not in vain.

To each one of us Trinity has been as home to a child. But now the child is a man, and must say goodbye to all that home has meant.

*"Tomorrow he shall take his pack
And set out for the ways beyond;
On the old trail from star to star,
An alien and a vagabond."*

ELLIOTT FIELDING PETTIGREW	Historian

1912 History

IN the enumeration of one's own deeds, human nature often crops out more than we could wish for, and frequently we digress a trifle in self-praise of these deeds instead of tabulating the essential facts. Nowhere does this failing seem to be more prominent than in a class history. The reader is reminded that the Class of 18— is the most illustrious class. It has contained more football men than any class in two decades. Its "Prom" was superlatively successful. We do not claim to be free from this common fault, but we shall endeavor to restrain our natural inclination to enthuse as is befitting, and try to confine ourselves to more prosaic ways.

Every Freshman class at old Trinity feels such an unconquerable desire to manifest its good feeling to the Juniors that it lets this enthusiasm take the form of a banquet at which the Juniors are honored guests. Nineteen-Twelve did not fall behind in this respect, and as we near the latter part of our course the event stands out in bold relief as one of the premier times of our undergraduate days.

Sophomore year was filled with all the delights which the "last year's Freshman" experiences. We smoked our pipes and donned our corduroys in true Sophomoric zeal and feared no one. The chief occurrence that should be raised to prominence during this period was the Smoker. The whole College came and enjoyed our hospitality, and went away satisfied. Most figures of speech which one can use to characterize an extraordinary success are hackneyed. Therefore, we shall not attempt to dwell further on the Smoker, lest we fall into this error.

Athletics have not been neglected. As track performers, 1912 led the College when the last competition was held. The smallness of our roll has been a hindrance to large numbers of our men taking part in football, but those who have done so have shown that their ability is in no way behind that of the leaders. So, we go on and pass to the present year. Junior Year at College is filled to the brim with happiness. What thrills of pleasurable reminiscence will shoot through us for many a day when we think of the Junior "Prom;" and we were not the only ones who enjoyed it, for the rest of the student body was present, and many of them outdid us in their joy of the dance.

But a short part of our course is yet to be passed. Beyond question we shall live up to our past record of good works. College life is more than the mere participation in Smokers, "Proms" and scholastic duties. It is filled with joys and sorrows, happily a greater majority of the former, and many happenings beyond the power of the writer's feeble pen to describe rightly. Fortunate, indeed, are we to be able to experience academic life, and as members of the Class of 1912 at Trinity we are placed in an enviable position. We have learned many things thus far, but chief among the impressions we shall carry away with us after we leave campus activities is that in "1912" lies the key to deep friendships and happy memories. Surely, this is the best we can say—better than untold fame on the athletic field or in the classroom. As we have noted above, there yet remains a short time before we shall part—let us make the most of it.

Junior Class Roll

PHILIP ALOYSIUS AHERN Hartford

Baseball Team (2); Football Team (3); Track Team (1) (2); A X P.

This is the Apple of our Ivy. (Help!) He is the best all-round athlete in the Class. He is also a night-rider on the Burnside line, but, of course, that is none of our business, and we are sorry we mentioned it. Rooming with Tom Flanagan has given him a worn and wearied look.

Φ Γ Δ.

"Bill" was unplussed the day this was taken. Notice the blank expression

GEORGE LAWTON BARNES Ansonia

Freshman-Junior Banquet Committee; Sophomore Smoker Committee; Toucey Scholar (2) (3); A X P.

Favorite amusement—the theatre. Favorite play—The Old Farm. Hobby motorcycling (record ten minutes a mile). Favorite classical quotation—Non paratus. Favorite song—"There'll Come a Time." Ambition—To be doing something else.

Glee Club (2) (3); College Choir (3); Junior Promenade Committee.

Do not shrink in terror from this exhibit. Wild and ferocious as he appears, "Moe" is really very tame and tractable. Just because a man eats fourteen ham sandwiches without intermission can he be accused of cannibalism? Answer: Not if he gets them at the College Commons.

GEORGE TURNER BATES Boston, Mass.

Class President (2, 1st term); Sophomore Hop Committee; Track Team (2); Sophomore Dining Club; $\Psi \Upsilon$.

"Oh, say, what is this fearful, wild, Incorrigible cuss?"

Have your midnight slumbers been broken by pandemoniac yowlings? The culprit you are seeking may be identified by the accompanying photog (R. G. No. 2323). It answers to the name of "Mush."

WILLIAM AUGUSTUS BIRD, IV Buffalo, N. Y.

Holland Scholar (1); Tripod Board (1); Managing Editor (2) (3); First Whitlock Prize (2); Second Alumni English Prize (2); First (3); Sophomore Dining Club; Editor-in-Chief 1912 Ivy; Senate (3); $\Lambda \Delta \Phi$.

When not actively engaged in running the College, "Gompers" may be found on the owl train from New York. President Luther is impatiently awaiting June, 1912, after which date he will once more assume control of the Executive Department.

Track Team (1) (2); Sophomore Dining Club;
Senate (2); Football Team (3); Hockey Team
(3); A Δ Φ.

We are very fortunate in having this particular picture of Bleeck, which was snapped just after he had missed a train on the Long Island Railroad. The expression of philosophical resignation is common to patrons of that road. "Babe" says he is going to sell real estate when he gets out of college, as he owns a house and lot in Flushing.

HOWARD RAY BROCKETT . . . Bristol
Hartford Club.

Our next exhibit is this rare portrayal of that ideal creature, the true Economic Man. Only specimen in captivity. "Brock" keeps the college book store. He is opposed to trusts and trusting. Is a rabid prohibitionist—says drinking is a great evil, but admits he has never tried it.

CHAPIN CARPENTER . . . Pottsville, Pa.

Freshman-Junior Banquet Committee; Mandolin Club (1); Tripod Board (1) (2); Athletic Editor (3); Tennis Team (1) (2); Sophomore Dining Club; Sophomore Hop Committee; Secretary-Treasurer Junior Promenade Committee; I K A.

"Chip" has a delusion that it is only jealousy that bars him from the Glee Club. This self-deception led him to give a free open-air concert in Farmington one balmy spring evening. Ah, what a blow to romance when rude hands dragged him away and put him on the last car for Hartford! Sweet dreams of Youth, farewell!

JAMES SHREWSBURY CRAIK . . . Louisville, Ky.

Sophomore Dining Club; Tripod Board (2); Assignment Editor (3); 1912 IVY Board; Glee Club (1) (3); Track Team (2); Ψ T.

"Colonel Juiceberry" says he comes from Kaintuck, but various students who have attended banquets with him have grave doubts. He has been known to drink eleven straight ginger-ales at one sitting. "'Faith, there must have been some stingo in the ginger!'" Still, Kentucky is a prohibition State. It is all very odd.

WILLIAM REDMOND CURTIS . . . Point Pleasant, N. J.

Golf Team (1); $\Lambda \Delta \Phi$.

"Red" came from Point Pleasant, N. J., and, frankly, we don't blame him. Point Pleasant is a good place to come from, and most of the people who are born there do. He occupies his time in summer, when not "tickling death" on the Seagirt range, in teaching the Jersey belles how to sail a cat-boat.

SAMUEL HERBERT EVISON . . . Albany, N. Y.

Tripod Board (2); Circulation Manager (3); Glee Club (1) (2) (3); Church School Prize in English (2); Ψ T.

Art is long. We might say something very clever if this had only been christened Arthur. (Prexy says he grows so fast he can often see his trousers crawling up his legs.) As it is, we can only present Little Eva, the Class baby, and wish the Class many of them.

THOMAS FRANCIS FLANAGAN . . . Hartford

Assistant Advertising Manager Tripod (2) (3);
Business Manager 1912 Ivy; A X P.

This is only a snapshot, as he couldn't stay long enough for a time exposure. You see, "Steamer" is the busiest man in the Class. He is seldom seen on the campus on account of the inertia of the human eye. After graduation he expects to take a position in an insane asylum in order to get a rest.

OLIVER GILDERSLEEVE, JR. . . . Gildersleeve

Football Squad (1) (2); Musical Clubs (1) (2);
President (3); Sophomore Dining Club; Ψ Υ .

"Pid" is the one man in this luminous collection of whom the reader would do well to beware. He who would lead that memorable Class Quartette is capable of almost anything. Outside of musical circles he is on the square. He is a great leader of campus glee, but his notion of glee was borrowed from a mortuary.

CARLOS SANFORD HOLCOMB . . . Torrington

Entered Junior Class from Yale University; A X P.

To do any more in regard to this youth

Than to show you his face would be futile and stupid;

It speaks with the utmost regard for the truth,

So, without more ado, we will introduce—"Cupid!"

CHARLES HURD HOWELL . . . Hartford

Class President (1, 1st term); Football Team (1) (2); Captain-Elect (3); Mandolin Club (1); Leader (2); Hockey Team (1) (2); Manager (2); President Y. M. C. A. (2); A Δ Φ.

This is the Lion of St. Mark's. In the picture he looks tame and tractable. But beware, little children, for this is he who tears up telegraph poles by their roots. But if we join the Y. M. C. A. the Lion will be kind to us and will let us stroke his nice warm fur. Is not the Y. M. C. A. a good and beautiful thing little children?

JAMES HOWARD HUMPHREY . . . Waterbury

Assistant Manager Football Team (2); Manager (3); Glee Club (1) (2) (3); Sophomore Dining Club; Junior Promenade Committee; Δ K E.

*"There are who lord it o'er their fellow men
With most prevailing tinsel."*

We used to know this fellow 'way back in our Freshman Year—before he became football manager. Very sad case—should be a warning to all in high places. "Hump" was a good sport, and we were just beginning to like him.

WALTER ALBERT JAMIESON . . . Utica, N. Y.

Sophomore Hop Committee; Class President (2, 2d term); Sophomore Smoker Committee; First Chemical Prize (2); Junior Promenade Committee; 1912 Ivy Board; A X P.

Prominent as the above would make him appear, Jimmie attained the height of his fame in the tryouts for the fencing team, in which he won by three feet. This was accomplished in a way that reminds us of "Chip" Carpenter's attempt to walk between a lamp post on his way back from Farmington. Full particulars on request.

Entered the Junior Class from Williams College;
1912 Ivy Board; I K A.

But for lack of space we would be inclined to print two views of this subject, representing the two aspects of his dual nature. As it is, we show only the docile, orderly, and, if we may so term it, official side of "Sir Walter." The Phi Beta Kappa expression is the fault of the camera.

KILBOURN MAXWELL KENDALL Framingham, Mass.

Sophomore Dining Club; Δ Ψ.

We would like to say something particularly nice and gentle about "Max." Our stock of saccharine sentiments, however, is being reserved for the Faculty. The only stain on his splendid record was received the day he thoughtlessly said "d—n." But he is in a fair way to live it down, and perhaps it should not be held up against him.

LAURENCE HUTCHINSON McCLURE . . . Hartford

Class President (1, 1st term); Freshman-Junior Banquet Committee; Sophomore Dining Club; Chairman Sophomore Hop Committee; Chairman Junior Promenade Committee; 1912 Ivy Board; Δ K E.

"Larry" hit this place on the run, and has been running ever since, generally being elected. His favorite quotation is, "Don't let 'em forget you're alive." Nobody does, except the totally deaf. His previous experience on the horizontal bar enabled him to pass Gym 2 with honors.

RAYMOND JAY NEWTON . . . Gaylordsville
Holland Scholar (2).

Raymond was prepared for college at Ingleside School, in New Milford. From earliest infancy he was a youth of rare promise, and always kind to little children and dumb animals. The gentleness of his nature was still further enhanced by association with Osborne.

LESLIE GILBERT OSBORNE . . . New Milford
A X P.

Leslie was prepared for college at Ingleside School, in New Milford. From earliest infancy he was a youth of rare promise, and always kind to little children and dumb animals. The gentleness of his nature was still further enhanced by association with Newton.

CLARENCE IRVING PENN . . . Weehawken, N. J.
Sophomore Smoker Committee; 1912 Ivy Board;
Φ Γ Δ.

"Foxy Quiller" has passed more courses without knowing why than anyone else in the Class. He also ran second to "Nick" Walsh in the Cremo contest. By an heroic effort we restrain ourselves from any remarks on Penn-names, penitentiary, etc. Clarence's byword is Penna ense potentior.

Freshman-Junior Banquet Committee; Assistant Manager Track Team (2); Manager (3); Sophomore Dining Club; Sophomore Smoker Committee; Junior Promenade Committee; A Δ Φ

There has never been any attempt on Pete's part to conceal the fact that he came from New York. Probably such an attempt would have been futile, anyway. By the way, it should have been mentioned above that he was a member of the A. F. L. in his Freshman Year, but was subsequently expelled. He is living with a view to going to heaven, where they have a little street that they call Broadway.

THOMAS JAMES QUISH, JR. South Manchester

"Tom" finds Trinity the most diverting place he has seen since he left his native Normandy, "whence comes Religion." He pulled a high "A" in French the week Dr. Gill had a cold; every time the professor sneezed Quish recited. (Think about that one a while—it's pretty good, once you see it.)

ALFRED ERWIN RANKIN Wellesley Hills, Mass.

Chairman Freshman-Junior Banquet Committee; Class President (1, 2d term); Hockey Team (1) (2) (3); Manager (2); Tripod Board (1); Managing Editor (2); Goodwin-Hoadley Scholar; Sophomore Dining Club; Sophomore Smoker Committee; Assistant Manager Baseball Team (2); Manager (3); Junior Promenade Committee; Ψ Υ.

"Handsome" came to Trinity under the impression that it was co-educational. Shortly after entering he changed his residence from Hartford to Wellesley, and since then has found vacation time doubly agreeable. His original intention of entering the ministry has suffered amendments.

RAYMOND HUBBARD SEGUR Hartford

Hartford Club; 1912 Ivy Board.

Shouting seditious sagacity.
Emanating enigmatical economics.
Greedily gluttonizing gossip.
Uttering unessentials unceasingly.
Rashly radiating radicalism.

WILLIAM SHORT, JR. St. Louis, Mo.

Sophomore Dining Club; Chairman Sophomore Smoker Committee; Advertising Manager Tripod (2) (3); Secretary-Treasurer Athletic Association (2); Class President (3, 1st term); Senate (3); Junior Promenade Committee; I K A.

This is "Little Cremo," from the home of Annheuser Busch. It is related of "Bill" that on his way east after his first summer vacation he went into the Grand Central Station and asked for a ticket to Heublein's. They told him the Express didn't stop at tank stations.

MAXIMILIAN SPORER Hartford

Hartford Club; Sophomore Smoker Committee.

Woman, your wiles are woefully wasted here—linger not, but pass on. "Moxie" has been inoculated with the germ of misogynism and it took, all right. But he loves the American game as much as he hates the American dame, and has nineteen distinct variations of "Slide, Kelly!"

WILLIAM ERNEST STEVEN Hartford

Freshman-Junior Banquet Committee; Junior
Promenade Committee; $\Phi \Gamma \Delta$.

Ladies and Gentlemen, "Professor" Steven! "Ernie" divides his time rather neatly between Hartford and New London. In the summer he finds the Adirondacks more to his taste, where Diana (only that is not her name) holds him in a mystic spell.
"O sovereign power of love! O grief! O balm!"

DUDLEY CHARLES TURNER West Hartford

Baseball Team (1); $\Delta K E$.

Specimen of "pome" composed by "Dud" in Keney Park surveying party:

*"I'd like to be a soldier,
And like a soldier die;
But who would be an engineer
When raging bulls are nigh?
Not I!"*

NICHOLAS VINCENT WALSH Norwich

1912 IVY Board.

Yes, this is "Nick." The reason you didn't recognize him at once is that the photographer made him take the cigar out of his mouth. Nick says he is going to be a doctor. Apropos of nothing, we feel that it is about time to suggest a prayer for the bodily health of all mankind. Will the congregation please join in.

HARRY WESSELS New Britain

Track Team (1) (2); Holder of College Record, Connecticut State Championship, and Indoor World's Y. M. C. A. Record for Pole-Vault; Sophomore Dining Club; Δ K E.

"A barbered woman's man!"

Harry was told by a gypsy that he was destined to hang, and, as a matter of fact, he nearly did die in the chair one day—how shocking! It really was barbarous.

CHARLES RICHARDSON WHIPPLE . . Malone, N. Y.

Glee Club (1) (3); Freshman-Junior Banquet Committee; Sophomore Hop Committee; Sophomore Smoker Committee; Sophomore Dining Club; Junior Promenade Committee; 1912 Ivy Board; Δ Ψ.

"Whip" is the only man who ever took a class treasurership seriously—it is hard enough to get some men to take the job at all. How we did pay up when he was the watch-dog of the treasury! He got four votes when running for re-election.

1913 History

“WELL, boys,” said the distinguished looking gentleman with the crooked nose, to the old men gathered in a circle around the blazing log fire, “it is now nearly forty years since those events took place, but how well I remember them!” A reminiscent look crept over his face (nobody spied it, so it crept on). “That banquet our Freshman Year was very accurately described, and it has recalled to my mind many other incidents of the year.

“Perhaps you remember, Harry, the good old scrap we had with 1912 on St. Patrick’s Day, and also the night before the morning after, which witnessed that bloody fracas on Northam’s rickety stairs. We had collected there to free our captured classmates who were held in durance vile, and articles of furniture as well as heads were broken with freedom and impartiality. 1912 finally fled down the fire escape, minus six of their number, and in the morning 1913’s silk banner proudly floated in the breeze, unmolested. After that scrāp we practically emerged from the low estate naturally accorded us as Freshmen and the shadow of the paddle no longer darkened our lives. But by the following September we became Sophs, and so at the same time the most asinine specimens of human indignation that ever strolled the campus—and our meek assent always accompanied such an assertion.

“On September 22d nearly one hundred toddling infants, trailing the banner inscribed ‘1914,’ entered chapel and overflowed the seats in front of our diminished numbers. After the service we found their number good and proper, and speedily decided not to take up nursing as a side issue. Instead, we came to the conclusion that one must humor a squalling infant—so we tickled the soles of 1914’s ‘tootsies’ with all the underclass rushes, and a track meet thrown in for luncheon, just to hear him gurgle with unalloyed pleasure. But when he began to want the whole College, with a canopy over it, we quit the wholesale surrendering and walked off with everything else.”

A shower of sparks flew up from the fire as if in approval of this determined step on 1913’s part as the last log broke in twain and spread its glowing embers over the hearth.

“Those times of happiness and pleasure must have left lasting impressions on all good ’13 men. The warmth and bright memory of those days are still with us, even though—” and, as he paused, a shadow crept over his face. He turned to look again at the fireplace; the embers that once had been glowing were a cold grey, and even as he gazed a gust of wind swept the last sparks up the chimney. A sad note rung in his voice as he finished, “even though those days are dead and gone.”

1914 History

THERE never was a class history written that brought credit upon the historian. His task is the most thankless in the world, for the reason that every reader imagines he could have done it so much better. It is strange that no class historian ever conceived the idea of allowing the reader to do this. It is my intention to adopt that plan, furnishing only the data and a few suggestions, all of which I shall call

EVERY MAN HIS OWN HISTORIAN

The following is a list of the events which should be mentioned:

Bloody Monday rushes.

Freshman-Junior Banquet.

Underclass track meet, baseball and football games.

St. Patrick's Day scrap.

Strength of Class intellectually.

“ “ “ athletically.

“ “ “ numerically.

Here is a list of choice phrases that are always used and should be rung in somehow:

Unqualified success.

Glorious victory.

Signal triumph.

Festive occasion.

The historian should not fail to make use of such expressions as “hosts of 1914,” “headlong rout of the sophomoric cohorts,” “chagrin of the baffled enemy,” “nothing daunted,” etc. These will be looked for.

Now, if each of my readers will take this data and this choice English and join them, to his own taste, we shall have the unique result that the history of 1914 will be pleasing to everybody. Thus is a venerable superstition exploded.

Review of the Football Season

THE season of 1910 will stand for many years, probably, as the most glorious that Trinity has ever completed. Of the total number of games played all but one resulted in favor of the Gold and Blue. The fame of the team has spread and it is no longer an unreckoned quantity in the football world, but is classed in the leading ranks of the smaller colleges.

Starting with a good nucleus of experienced players, and an excellent showing of new material, the coach and captain through their unceasing efforts developed a football machine the equal of which Trinity has seldom, if ever, seen. The team was steady, sure and aggressive in its work as a body, and accurate, telling and brilliant in individual play. It was a record team, referred to everywhere as one of the most successful exponents of the new game.

Worcester Tech was the first victim, and succumbed more readily than their weight and experience had led our men to hope. The Amherst Aggies proved a somewhat harder proposition, and their subsequent record showed them to be of uncommon strength. They succeeded in placing a neat field goal before the victory was finally decided, 15-3. The following week Colgate went down to defeat on their own field for the first time in years. Colgate was the acclaimed champion of the upper part of New York, but Trinity surprised the collegiate world with her speed and unlooked-for power of attack, running up a score of four touchdowns.

Norwich University came to Hartford the following Saturday. The uncertainty of the "dope" system was well demonstrated. What was counted as the easiest game on the schedule was barely pulled out of the fire. The game was sloppily played on a sloppy field, and not until the very last minute of play was the Norwich line crossed.

The climax of the season was reached in the Wesleyan game, when, before a record crowd of supporters of both colleges, the "fourth annual victory" was ours by the narrow margin of five points. The score must have been larger but for the wonderful punting of the Wesleyan quarterback. The Trinity line, none too strong on ordinary occasions, was impregnable whenever the goal was in danger. The offense was in the best possible form, as is seen by the record of ground gained.

Gildersleeve

On Election Day the team played New York University on Ohio Field. In many ways this game was the most brilliant of the season. New York had been hailed as the middleweight champions of the East and, with the aid of Yule, their remarkable full-back, expected to end Trinity's winning streak. The expected did not happen, however, and the large delegation of alumni present was treated to a Trinity victory, 12-6.

Cook

Four days later Haverford was seen on Trinity field, and though the Pennsylvanians played a snappy game they were clearly outclassed.

The final game was with the Army. The soldiers proved too strong, and Trinity went down to her first defeat. The score is far from indicating the fierceness of the struggle or the true bulldog character of the fight. Perhaps a truer index of the strenuous play is found in the Army's unexpected defeat by the Navy one week later.

Review of the Baseball Season

THE baseball season of 1910 was, on the whole, a successful one, eleven of the twenty games played resulting in victories. The feature of the season was the southern trip, on which five games were played with some of the strongest teams in North Carolina and Maryland, with only one defeat. The team went into a short slump in the middle of the season, due no doubt to the lack of a coach, but "came back" in good style, defeating West Point, Colgate and Columbia, and breaking even in the two games with Wesleyan.

A great deal of the success of the team, especially on the southern trip, was due to the efficient coaching of Coach Connery. The team was about all that could be desired as far as fielding goes, the infield being one of the fastest that has represented Trinity in years, but at the bat and on the bases the work was not so good, and with one exception every game lost was lost through lack of timely hitting or by poor base-running.

The pitching staff was eminently satisfactory, one and two-hit games being no rarity. But for the prime mistake of allowing the team to struggle along in the most critical part of the season without a coach the year would undoubtedly have been a record one.

Track Team

Review of the Track Season

IT can scarcely be said that the track season of 1910 was a successful one. Only two dual meets were held, and in both Trinity showed up very poorly. The team consisted of new men almost entirely, and if any advantage accrued from the season at all, it will develop in the season of 1911. The pole vault was the one department in which the team was a consistent winner. Wessels' work in the New England Intercollegiates is worthy of praise. The two meets were with Rensselaer and Wesleyan, the first being lost by a score of 76-50, and the second, 90-36.

Review of the Basketball Season

PROBATION played havoc with the basketball team, and that, coupled with the ordinary difficulties of this sport at Trinity, made the season a disappointing one. The work of the individuals throughout the season was extremely commendable, but the team as a whole showed clearly that practice and strict training were lacking. The men still remaining in college should form a strong nucleus for next year, but the loss of Carroll, Gildersleeve and Ramsdell will be seriously felt.

Hockey Team

Review of the Season

THE weather conditions were most unfavorable for hockey this year, and when the first game was played the men had had almost no practice.

The real merits of the team were displayed, however, when the second game, against a picked seven of ex-University players, was won easily. It is noteworthy that the games lost were preceded by warm weather, while the team showed up in championship style when conditions permitted consistent practice. Of the eight games scheduled only four could be played, but the record of the season seems to justify the retention of hockey on our list of sports.

Review of the Tennis Season

THE tennis team, although handicapped by the loss through illness of the Pulford brothers, had a most successful season, winning five out of seven matches. The schedule was an ambitious one, but the team proved itself equal to it. At Longwood, Trinity won the first match in the Intercollegiates, losing the second to Williams. Nelson was elected Vice-President of the Intercollegiate Tennis Association.

The Battle of March 17, 1911

AND it came to pass that on the sixteenth day of the month called March, the Freshmen did all turn their backs upon the campus, even at the setting of the sun. And they gathered themselves together, and their leader spake unto them, saying "Do ye abide within the camp the night long." (Now the camp was an hotel, over against High street, even the Vendome). So they abode in the camp according to his word, and it was straitly shut up: none went out and none came in.

And it came to pass, about the twelfth hour, even the selfsame night it came to pass, that the children of 1914 went out from the hotel. And forth unto the streets did the leader send a chosen band, all lusty men, and with them parchments, inscribed "19T14." So they returned, and behold their hands were empty—for on the walls had they left them—yea, even upon all the windows, and not one remained unto them.

Then they spake unto the leader concerning it, saying, "We did encounter one band, clad in blue coats, and two of our number did they take, e'er we fled." Then was his anger kindled against them, for that they had lost such mighty men of valour, and forth he sent them, saying, "Let not one return until he is avenged."

So a great journey did they make and then they returned. And they brought back captives—of those of 1913—unto the congregation of the children of 1914. And their leader went forth to meet them without the camp, and he looked at them and was well pleased. And forthwith they rested.

And it came to pass on the next day, which was called Saint Patrick's Day, that they rose early, about the dawning of the day. And their leader rose up amongst them and spoke, saying, "Now, therefore, hearken, O Freshmen, unto the judgments which I teach you, that ye may go forth to the place called the 'campus' and possess the Tree. Arm yourselves unto the battle and go forth against the enemy, to battle fiercely. Take ye, therefore, good heed unto yourselves, that ye may not add unto the word which I command you, nor diminish aught from it." And they listened and answered him, saying, "All that thou commandest us, we will do, and whithersoever thou sendest us, we will go."

So they gathered themselves together against the enemy, and descended from the hill called Zion, they and all the people with them. And they were without numbers, as the sand by the seaside for multitude.

And the children of 1913 were gathered unto themselves around the Tree, and they lifted up their eyes, and behold, the Freshman host marched before them, and they were sore afraid. But their leader spake unto them, saying, "Be strong and of good courage." And again he spake, saying, "Let there be song." And so they sang, even after the manner of the glees, singing "Under the Yum.Yum."

And the leader of the enemy advanced with twenty chosen men, and heavy withal. And in their midst was the hero, so that they were a wall unto him on his right hand and on his left. And there was a very sore battle that day. And the hero in little time possessed the Tree. And he found the banner hidden in the branches—so it was in little time exposed to the wind, and it fluttered. Then the Freshman leader saw it and was pleased.

So the fighting continued, and the children of 1913 were sore distressed, so that the Freshman host overcame them, and they were put to flight. Wherefore they that speak in the journal—even that which lieth in the place called New York—saying, "And those that were injured in the battle were full twenty, those incarcerated were two—and great was the riot thereof."

And it came to pass that judgment fell upon the children of 1914, and their victory was even taken from them, so that they were sore grieved, for that they had disfigured the windows with the parchment. But the battle was ended—and the people read of it and it was good and they were well pleased.

The Lemon Squeezer

IN glancing through the last few volumes of the IVY one is struck by the unadorned table of Keepers of the Lemon Squeezer, and there are probably not a few men among the undergraduates and younger alumni who know almost nothing of the history of the mysterious implement, beyond the fact that it was given originally by '57 to '59 as an "odd-class" trophy, which it continued to be until '65 made it a prize for class excellence. But why, one wonders, is the list of presenters and receivers reduced to a column of blanks, beginning with the Class of '96? And, again, what and where is this venerable object? Someone may reply that at some time or other it was stolen and hidden away, and it is rumored that it now reposes in a safe-deposit vault "somewhere."

The true story of the theft is a most interesting one. It all took place at the Class Day exercises of '95. The squeezer was displayed, as was usual on the graduation of a "squeezer class," on the president's desk. It had been announced that it would be awarded formally and with ceremony to '97, whose duty it would then become to guard it safely until it came their turn to pass it on to "the most representative class in college."

The Class of '96, however, was not altogether pleased with the award, and, believing that justice lay on their side, determined that the squeezer should be theirs, '95 to the contrary notwithstanding. The scheme was cooked up among a select band in a room in Seabury Hall several days before the announced presentation. When the fated hour arrived, two '96 men, mounted on horses, were waiting behind Northam Towers, while a dozen of their classmates were concealed within the building, not fifty feet from the coveted prize.

The lemon-squeezer oration was the last event on the program, and was to be delivered by Edward Hamlin, '95, who was to turn the squeezer over to Cogswell, '97. The event preceding, however, was the presentation of gifts to the graduating class, and it was here that the trouble began. Welsh, the presenter, had somewhat indiscreetly appointed Edgerton Parsons, the tallest man in the Class of '96, and Woolsey Johnson, the largest man in '98, to assist him. Johnson would pass the presents to Parsons, who would take them in front of the desk (just before the entrance to Northam) and hand them to Welsh.

Toward the end of the presentation, after handing a present to Welsh, Parsons calmly took the squeezer off the desk, walked around behind Welsh and through the door into Northam Towers, Johnson locking the door behind him. Once inside Northam, the precious squeezer was passed quickly from hand to hand and out the rear window to one of the waiting horsemen who galloped several miles into the country and hid it in the crotch of a tree. There it rested for several weeks.

But, meanwhile, the main excitement was on the campus. For a moment the audacity of the act rendered the Seniors helpless. But the minute Parsons was seen to disappear into Northam the campus was in an uproar. An unsuccessful attempt was made to force the strongly barred door. Angry voices were shouting Parsons' name, coupled with threats, when he reappeared as coolly as he had left. The '96 men rushed upon him, and to some who were present the wonder that he escaped with his life still remains. As a matter of fact he did not get away with much besides.

There was no more interest in the exercises that day. The search for the squeezer went far and wide, but it was never again seen by any member of '95. Some weeks later, when the excitement had somewhat abated, it was taken with great precaution from the tree where it had been hidden, and deposited in a vault in Providence, whence it was transferred after a time to New York, where, the story goes, it still remains. Whether it is ever allowed to see the light of day is a problem for speculation. Do '96 men, in occasional secret meetings, hold "squeezer dinners," at which it is displayed, but only to the eyes of the elect? Or does it lie, unregarded, year in and year out, sealed in "robur et aes triplex?"

VOL. XXIII. Blast No. 13

Hartford, Conn., March 16, 1911

Price, 3 Soap Wrappers

FRATERNITY MEN ARE QUARANTINED.

Specialists Unable to Diagnose their Cases.

A Fraternity house with nine of its student-members is under quarantine. The affliction is a peculiar eye disease. As it developed directly after a tea given by the members of the Fraternity for a number of stunningly attractive Hartford young ladies on Saturday, the majority of doctors incline to the belief that it is no more than "Cupid's Eye Strain."

"Pop" Sutton pronounces it conjunctivitis. That certainly does you credit, Pop, and incidentally removes all suspicion (of taking a needed rest from studies) from the nine students who are now enjoying nocturnal prowls, pajama raids and good-night-shirt parades to enliven their otherwise weary existence.

The plain-clothes men of the City Health Department are doing men's work to keep the other students from entering the house to extend their sympathies (?) to the unfortunates. There have been no other cases of contagious disease (except becoming engaged) in the past ten years at the college, and we consider it a hopeful and encouraging sign for the future careers of our many Trinity men that they have been doing their utmost to follow out the words of the motto, "carpe diem"—make the most of present opportunities (tomorrow the pink-eye may be gone).

BEFORE HYMEN'S ALTAR.

First Surprise Party of the New Year.

Trinity students were given a surprise package last evening, when H. C. Noyes, '14, of Norwich (God bless her!) gave them to understand—hard though it was—that he had been one of the two contracting parties at a marriage solemnized in this city several nights ago. The lucky maiden (for such her tender age proclaims her) also claims Norwich as her habitation.

Besides the happy couple (speaking both literally and figuratively) there were present the happy minister and the "best man," quite neutral in his feelings. There is a dark story in connection with the latter, but we refuse to print it.

Those privileged few who remember how neatly young Noyes (we speak advisedly), under a husky bluecoat's dire threats of incarceration, refilled an ash barrel he had carelessly emptied when Asylum St. was temporarily paralyzed by the students' war-dance last September, will be willing to vouch for his ability to clean up along certain lines (excluding the street-car lines for the moment). We hope for his business career. The training he derived in writing daily themes for English I will stand him in good stead when he begins reporting wrestling matches for his home paper.

IVY GOES TO PRESS

Better, Bigger, Buggier than ever.

The 1912 IVY is all in press now, and the Editors say it is the best that has been issued since last year. One of the most notable improvements is the omission of nearly all the old features. This will make the book less bulky and unwieldy than it has been in the past, and will be a welcome change.

Individual and collective libels on students, Faculty, janitors, etc., will be such as to make the Board vastly more unpopular than in past years. The Editorial Staff will probably go away for a timely rest on the day of publication and remain until it is deemed healthy for them to return.

LOVE LETTERS FROM HOLYOKE.

The dismal gloom of midyears was almost dispelled by the sweet love-messages which surprised a few favored students. A new bunch of exam. books were suddenly shipped in, and the first victim found this staring him in the face: "Dear Mr. stoo-dent, I made this book. wont yew please rite me? Yours, Maggie O'Flaherty, Holyoke Paper Mills."

Certainly there are some damsels too clever to be toiling in the paper mills!

NARROW ESCAPE FOR TRINITY.

"Winthrop College" in Close Proximity.

Our staid old Alma Mater is still trembling in her catacombs to think how nearly West Hartford came to being the seat of a new Woman's College. Needless to state, they are not trembles of joy or thanksgiving, either.

Wesleyan came a close second in the throes of frightful uncertainty, as O. Gildersleeve has seen auction sales before and knows how to bid high. Norwich and New London each put a spoon in the soup but the former being considered altogether too attractive in most respects (witness Noyes' sudden departure!), the "Whalers" are now the proud possessors of "Winthrop College."

How the well laid plans of men go for naught! 1913 was planning special features for her Junior Prom, and all the cradle-robbers on the hill were counting on petite Freshmen as partners. Yates and Nick Walsh were even contemplating moustaches in the hope of captivating several maidens the first night on West Hartford's main street. Birdie Smith and Stan Grint were mathematically figuring (if that is possible) how many times they'd be engaged by the time their B. A. is ready (why not "Baa," to harmonize with the sheepskin?) Robert alone was unshaken, but he deals with the mail only (Freshman joke).

Trinity Tightwad

Supposed to be inflicted semi-weekly, but sometimes omitted when the editors lack burning thoughts or the printers ambition.

Address all complaints to the Circulation Manager—he has just bought a new and commodious wastebasket.

The columns of the Tightwad are open to anyone seized with a fit of a literary character. Contributions from English I flunkers are especially desired. All contributions, foolish or otherwise, must be bulky.

The Editor will be glad to insult contributors at his office hour.

Skin Rates, Editor-in-Cheese

Entered as a low form of hydrophobia (1st rank matter), March 16, 1911, at the Dead Letter Office, at Hartford, Conn.

Subscription Price, $2.00 per year. Sent to all subscribers until ordered discontinued. To Alumni, $1.00. To Wesleyan students, $8.00. Single copies may be found on Stickney's floor, married copies on the professors' doorsteps.

In charge of this issue: Wood B. Humorist, 1913.

"The paste pot is mightier than the pen."

EDITORIAL.

Beginning with the next issue, the Tightwad will be printed in black ink on white paper, with the advertisements also in black. We are tired of having it "read all over." However, if our contributors have anything of a fiery or pessimistic nature, red and blue ink will be used to fit the respective cases.

One thing which distresses us greatly and is keeping us awake nights is the fact that every now and then, or more often, somebody criticises us. They do not realize the good we are doing the college, nor do they realize, blind as they are, the typographical and sensible excellence of this year's Tightwad in comparison with the publications of preceding editors—a matter the Tightwad congratulates itself upon. Why any of the Alumni should get so jealous we are unable to understand. But each issue brings to light some "open letter," demanding not only that we print less news and more so-called literature, but that we make some change in the character of the editorials. While the Tightwad does not wish to appear to have any idea on the subject it nevertheless feels that there is much to be said on both sides, and if somebody will only say it the Tightwad will serve it up on both sides the next issue. "Be that as it may," we are now going to try the other method. Hereafter, be it known to our millions of subscribers and sympathizers, the space formerly devoted to athletics will be open to free discussions on the Darwinian Theory, the Solid Spherical Harmonic of the n-th Degree, and the Isness of Was. Our editorials will henceforth and forever (Amen) consist of rejected fortnightly themes of Eng. I and any specimens of entrance examination papers with marks between freezing point and zero. These must be at least six years old. This method will be continued until adverse opinions again litter up our old soap-boxes. But, joking aside, we deplore this unnecessary and undeserved criticism. Yes, we, the Bored Editors and the two Freshmen who are trying for the position of Editor-in-Cheese, deplore it sadly. We say again, "Yes," and we could say it again just as many times as we want to, for upon this page we are indeed supreme. But words are beyond our sphere. What are words? Bah! What are the Alumni?—!!!—Yes, and what is the Tightwad? Ah! the Tightwad never for an instant forgets its dignity.

Has anybody here seen Miss Prince?

BISHOP'S TEA PARTY.

For new and ingenious ideas we award the palm to 1913—generously neglecting to think of the Tightwad. They kept the Freshies' tongues hanging out yesterday before the "Bishop"—and then made them lace their shoes. Poli should engage the act where "Little Eliza," weight 230 pounds stripped, treads gently but firmly over five or six innocent victims of 1914, trained to imagine themselves as cakes of ice—though not one got cold feet.

But the crowning event was the boat race. While neither side traveled very far, there was plenty of action; and even the reports of the cracking of heads (bone and otherwise) together. The latter cruelty would have been eliminated if the opposite ends of the crew had kept in rhythm, but the beauty and picturesqueness of the race would have been sadly lacking.

"THE LAZY MAN"

by President Luther

On Sunday, Dec. 18th, the well known and popular Scenic Theatre was patronized by the most enthusiastic and yet orderly audience seen within its massive walls for generations. The notable occasion was an address by our President on "The Lazy Man." It was freely advertised beforehand, and when the great doors swung open the multitude surged in.

Complimentary front seats were awarded the honored guests, among whom were numbered the Messrs. Clark, Burbank, Curtis, Walsh, Dillard and Sage. The address was so intensely interesting that reliable reports have come in that none of the above gentlemen dozed.

A selected (?) quartet from the college afterwards aroused all present to a state bordering on nervous breakdown and depression (the effect of too many "blue" notes), and when they sat down, everyone said it was the best thing they ever did.

COMMUNICATION.

To the Editor of the Tightwad

We abhor complaints, but what is an august body to do? We wish to appeal to the best feelings of the college body through your most valuable columns. [Hear that, Alumni and Kickers? The Editor.] The fraternity of Kappa Beta Phi is not getting its due and deserved recognition at the hands of Trinity students. It has fallen into such a low state of degeneration that the annual number of flunks is getting almost as low as the chapel attendance. Students and Would-Be Students! Arouse yourselves! Do your share in upholding our hitherto enviable reputation. Down with the grinds! We appeal for aid to the Profs themselves, and to the proprietors of all amusement places and "booze emporiums." Rectify this evil into which we have so grossly fallen. Let the banner of Kappa Beta Phi float high, and let her, as of old, lead our long list of popular and powerful bodies. Get busy! Cut! Flunk!—but graduate!

Very hopefully yours,

We never remember seeing such good spirit as that evinced in the last Freshman-Junior Banquet. The poor Sophs bucked up against the whole police force of Meriden, backed by the Winthrop Hotel management, and then retired to the moving-picture shows and quick lunch counters with broken noses as trophies of the chase, but with absolutely no ill-feeling toward mankind in general (meaning 1914) or one lanky cop in particular. Just ask Thomas! Mighty good spirit was also shown inside the banquet hall, and was so eagerly seized upon that it was soon inside the banqueters. Just see Jarvis!

Revised Rules of The Faculty

1. Students are expected to carry with them at all times a pail of water with which to drown all cigarette "stubbs."

2. If a student ever happens to be in his room at night, a careful watch (not an Ingersoll) should be kept on the radiator, as cases have been known where heat was apparent in these.

3. A surveillance of at least ten minutes should be kept over cigarette "stubbs" which are discarded in any place except in a full bathtub.

4. The custom of exhibiting Hartford's fire engines to the Freshmen at least three times a year is hereby abolished.

5. In all cases of fire in the college buildings students shall remain in their classes until a written release has been received by their professor.

6. The medical supervisor shall examine the olfactory nerves of the students at least once a day.

7. The New (?) Trinity (?) Dormitories (?) will (?) be (?) absolutely (?) fireproof (?).

8. A supply of fire extinguishers may be obtained at the office without charge.

9. Members of the Faculty shall smoke only at Faculty meetings. NOTE—In the future, Faculty meetings shall be held three times a day.

Announcements

Trinity College

Hartford, Connecticut

RINITY COLLEGE, under the name of Washington College, received its Charter in 1823. The present name was adopted in 1845. Its chief founder was the Right Rev. Thomas Church Brownell, Bishop of Connecticut. Established by Episcopalians as a contribution to higher education, it is not a Church institution in the sense of being directed by the Church. Its advantages are placed at the service of those of every creed.

The principal building, in the English Secular Gothic style, 653 feet long, including Jarvis and Seabury Halls and Northam Towers, is one of the most imposing and admirably fitted educational edifices in the United States. It was intended to form the west side of a great quadrangle. Outside of the lines of this quadrangle at the south are the Observatory, the Boardman Hall of Natural History, and the Jarvis Laboratories for Chemistry and for Physics. To the north of it are the Gymnasium, houses of the President and Professors, and Chapter Houses of the Fraternities. Below the College Campus to the east and within three minutes' walk is the spacious Athletic Field. In beauty of situation, healthful conditions of life, and equipment for its special work, the College is not surpassed.

The Faculty includes sixteen professors, four instructors, librarian, and medical director.

Among the Elective studies within the respective courses there is no important subject for which adequate provision is not made.

The Library contains 60,000 volumes. Generous contributions of the Alumni are making possible a rapid addition to its resources. A Reference Reading Room is open every day and five evenings of the week.

The Jarvis Chemical and Physical Laboratories have an excellent equipment for Elementary and Advanced work.

The Hall of Natural History contains the Museum, Biological Laboratories, and the Psychological Laboratory.

In the year 1903-1904 a full technical course in Civil Engineering was for the first time made available for all qualified applicants.

There are numerous scholarships providing pecuniary assistance for deserving students. The three Holland scholarships, yielding each $600 per annum, are awarded to the three best students in the three lower classes, respectively. The Russell Graduate Fellowship of $500 is awarded biennially in the interest of higher graduate study. The Mary A. Terry Graduate Fellowship of $550 is awarded annually. Prizes to the amount of $500 are also awarded to undergraduates for success in the work of the various departments.

Two examinations for admission are held at the College each year, the first during the days following the Annual Commencement, and the second in September, immediately before the beginning of the Christmas term.

For Catalogues, Examination Papers, or information, apply to the President or Secretary of the Faculty.

Calendar of Events

- SEPT. 15 Station lounging begins.
- 21 Somerville, '14, buys a campus ticket. Large advance sale of radiators.
- 22 Vesper service starts the college year. All the Freshmen and four upperclassmen present.
- 26 Freshmen triumphant. The rope rush proves interesting to spectators, but hard on owners of clothesline in vicinity.
- 27 The usual large amount of enthusiasm and small amount of money are raised for the A. A.
- 28 Musical clubs elections. "Nothing but probation can prevent a successful season." (N. B.—It did.)
- OCT. 1 Football team plays W. P. I. Of course, Trinity won.
- 2 Great interest in Y. M. C. A. work. For a few weeks "every little student had a jail-bird all his own." The religious fervor has, however, somewhat abated as we go to press.

- Oct. 3 Sophomores swamped in underclass track meet. Less training at Heub's and more on the field, and the scores might have been reversed.
- 5 Chess team applies for admission to the A. A.

NOV 10

- Oct. 8 Football with Amherst Aggies. Certainly, Trinity was victorious.
- 10 Annual underclass baseball farce. Sophs win, as two of their team had played the game before.
- 12 Burgwin, '14, wins tennis championship, playing with one hand.
- 15 Colgate game. Don't ask foolish questions. Phi Beta Kappa celebrates at Heub's.
- 19 Freshman rules appear. Enforced? Oh, dear no! Not since the days of the Paddle.
- 22 Trinity plays a "practice game" with Norwich, and has hard work winning.

Full Dress Suits for Rent

64, 66 and 68 Asylum St.

Hartford, Conn.

Before buying your Spring Suit read these few FACTS by DAVE.
A SUIT INTENDED for YOU should be cut to your INDIVIDUAL MEASUREMENTS.

There is no economy in poor fabrics at any price.

There is no satisfaction in poorly fitting clothes.

And there is a great difference between trying to fit a man into a suit and making a suit to FIT THE MAN. Men are not built in regulation sizes like tenpins. No two men are shaped alike. And even the best formed man is not perfectly proportioned.

It stands to reason that a suit intended for any of a hundred different men will not fit any one of them completely. If it is stretched or "FAKED" into temporary shape, that shape disappears when subjected to wear and weather.

YOUR SUIT SHOULD be FITTED TO YOU IN THE MAKING.

There is only one way to be sure of thoroughly satisfactory clothes.

Have them cut to your individual measurements from good fabrics and fitted to you in the MAKING.

When this is done by a competent cutter and tailor, on the spot, you are as well dressed as a man can be. You have the little touches of individuality that lend distinction to the well dressed man. Your clothes are snug without being stiff and woodeny. They fit gracefully and comfortably.

They bring out your good points and conceal or modify your defects.

In short, they show you at your best, and that is what clothes are for. So, for your fall suit or overcoat, look me up at 40 Asylum Street, up one flight, where, with my small expenses for doing business, I can save you money on your clothes. Suits to order, $16.50, $18, $20, $25, $30 and $35.

K B Φ Impressions of a Philosophy Lecture

Now, in a course like this, take note,
A word means never what you thought;
Although it seems as if it ought,
Its true intent is quite remote.

For instance, take the verb to know,
Though simple to the untrained mind,
Yet, philosophically, we find
It should not be considered so.

For knowing, in the stricter sense,
Implies a psychologic doubt.
The only things we know about
Are what we don't—that's quite intense.

Or, take the case of Mary's lamb:
(Simple examples are preferred)
Do you suppose it would have erred
So far if it had been a clam?

No lambs are clams,* a cosmic fact
That syllogistic logic proves;
A thing in motion always moves,
An agent always does an act.

To put it briefly (notice this!)
We never ought to do a must;
Instead, it's truer far to trust,
For being blithe is seldom bliss.

*As a matter of fact, the writer, chancing to stroll into the Philosophy room after a class in logic saw written on the board this astounding proposition: "No dogs are cats."
